Celebrating Five Decades of Biomaterials Research

The logo features a biomaterial scaffold at its center, representing the core scientific focus of the European Society for Biomaterials. Surrounding this scaffold is a golden ring symbolizing the Society's 50-year journey from 1976 to 2026. The ring is intentionally left partially incomplete, reflecting that ESB's mission continues beyond this milestone. This design highlights the Society's evolving role in driving innovation, fostering interdisciplinary collaboration, and promoting scientific excellence in biomaterials research. Together, the scaffold and the golden ring convey both ESB's strong foundations and its vision for shaping the future of biomaterials science.
